Livestock place less burden on human food and fresh water supply than previously reported.

Feeding and watering livestock in most livestock production systems in Africa does not reduce food or water supply for people.

https://whylivestockmatter.org/messages/livestock-place-less-burden-human-food-and-fresh-water-supply-previously-reported