

Support mixed smallholder farms

On mixed crop-livestock farms that produce most of the world's livestock products, appropriate market-driven solutions will help farmers sustainably intensify production, providing income and livelihoods and offering opportunities to empower women